I hold a Master's degree in Counselling Psychology from Monash University (Melbourne, Australia), and I am a Registered Clinical Counsellor with the BC Association of Clinical Counsellors. I have had over 25 years of experience working as a psychologist and counsellor in Canada, England, and Australia, and in international psychosocial relief and capacity building in Albania and Kosovo.

In my clinical practice, I use a person-centered perspective believing in unconditional respect for the individual and their experiences. I focus on reflection, transformative growth and self-actualization to build positive psychological well-being and resilience.

As a supervisor, I focus on conversations to encourage curiosity and growth, within the ethical standards of the profession.
