I have provided clinical counselling for 19 years at the local cancer clinic, plus maintained a private practice for over 18 years. I work with primarily with cancer patients and their families, professional and family caregivers, and people who are grieving. My therapeutic approaches and values are informed by emotion-focused therapy and somatic-focused therapy. During clinical supervision you will be supported in your work as a Clinical Counsellor to deepen your clinical practice, and work with yourself as Clinical Counsellor in a compassionate manner. Please see my website www.maritapoll.ca for further information about my practice.
