I am a registered social worker, registered clinical counsellor, certified trauma treatment specialist and registered play therapy supervisor. I am also a certified Synergetic Play Therapist. My practice approach involves interpersonal neurobiology, co-regulation and mindfulness; I work most with children, youth and parents however I do have a lot of experience working with individuals who have experienced trauma and intergenerational trauma, in particular, Indigenous adults and families. I have specialized training in gender identity and sexuality, cultural safety, and play therapy and trauma treatment.
