I am licensed in the USA as a MFT and LCPC and was required to obtain more than 3000 supervised hours prior to sitting for two state administered exams-that plus my 27+ years of experience and training provide a vast array of possibility for supervision. I am also an RCC and CCC. I have been an adjunct professor of Effective Relational Psychotherapy at Adler School of Professional Psychology in Vancouver. My specialties/training include family systems psychotherapy, somatic transformation, Human Validation Process Model, PTSD and trauma (I have been on more than 23 military assignments as a counsellor), anxiety, depression, relational healing, interpersonal neuro-psycho physiology (Allan Schore, UCLA School of Medicine), Therapeutic Enactment. I have worked in many situations and have had successful private practices in 3 countries. I see couples, individuals, families, children, adolescents and groups-some of my specialties include: Relationship Healing, Couples Treatment, Parent and Child/Teen Relationships, Men's Issues, Military and Veterans Transitions, Anger Resolution, PTSD and Trauma, Family Issues, Communication Skills, Substance Abuse, Teens and Children, Parenting Skills, Spiritual Issues, Grief and Loss, Anxiety and Depression, Personal Growth, Life Transitions, Performance Enhancement (including corporate/business/NASCAR), International Corporate Consultations/Trainings.
