I am a Registered Clinical Counsellor and Expressive Arts Therapist, practicing for the last 10 years in the Vancouver area.

I have worked in a number of settings including in a school, within an Indigenous community, at a Not-for-profit community-based agency as well as in private practice. I work within an anti-oppressive and trauma-informed lens and my orientation is strengths-based, client-centred, mindfulness and somatic based.

I am able to provide supervision in the following areas:

- Working with children, teens and adults, both individual and group therapy
- I am able to supervise traditional counselling as well as play and arts-based work, with an MA in Expressive Arts Therapy
- I have experience working with LGBTQ2S+ clients, Indigenous clients, as well as with depression, anxiety, sexual abuse, grief, parent support, complex trauma and crisis intervention.
