Gillian is a warm and skilled clinician with over 10 years of clinical experience working with children, youth, and families. Gillian has been providing clinical supervision to counsellors and practicum students since 2018. The majority of her supervisory experience has been focused on supporting counsellors working with children, youth and parents. Gillian worked at Cameray Child and Family Services for 8 years, whereby she held various leadership roles and provided supervision to a team of child and family counsellors. Gillian has a wealth of knowledge and experience in play therapy, CBT, emotion-focused therapy, child development, parenting support and attachment theory. She utilizes a collaborative approach to clinical supervision, and strives to provide a safe, compassionate, and encouraging environment for clinicians to learn and grow. Gillian has been approved as a primary and secondary supervisor at many universities in B.C., and has supported many students in successfully completing clinical practicums at a master's level.
