I am passionate about providing a reflective and empowering space for counsellors, grounded in BCACC standards of practice, evidence-based training, and relevant privacy legislation.

I hold a Master's in Counselling Psychology from UBC, a Graduate Certificate in Complex Trauma from JIBC, and additional training and experience in CBT, EMDR, DBT, EFFT, mindfulness, yoga, play therapy, and somatic experiencing.

With over a decade of experience counselling adults, children, youth, families, and groups, as well as providing clinical supervision, I specialize in trauma, anxiety, OCD, somatization, and depression. My background includes counselling and supervisory roles in health authorities, private practice, and non-profit settings; teaching Child and Youth Care, group work and research in a university setting and serving on the BCACC Inquiry Committee.

If you are committed to growth and integrity and looking for a supportive, respectful, and clear supervisor or consultant, I would love to hear from you.
